

Product End of Life Notification

Revised, April 2, 2009

This is a revised notification that the current version of Socket Go Wi-Fi! 802.11b/g CF card P500/P500X will be going End of Life (EoL) on June 30, 2009. This notification revision follows up the Product EoL Notification of P500/P500X sent on October 31, 2008.

Transition Plan

The plan is to EoL the current version P500/P500X due to the EoL of some key components. Socket is working with customers to make the last-buy commitments. We are also working with our component supplier to accommodate the last-buy demands of our customers. Once the commitments and the inventory are exhausted, P500/P500X will no longer be available for purchase. Customers who have already confirmed purchase order with shipping schedule in place are not affected by this notification. All the new orders will be fulfilled on a first come first serve basis – all new orders must be made before May 31st, 2009, pending availability with scheduled shipments through Sept 30th, 2009.

Please contact Socket OEM sales if you are interested in and are willing to commit to the P500 replacement CF WLAN card from Socket.

Why is the current version product going EoL?

Some key components of the current version product are no longer available from their suppliers.
